

IFS GLOBAL MARKETS FOOD

An easy entry into effective product safety and quality processes

IFS Global Markets Food offers an easy entry into adequate food safety and quality processes and helps you meet legal and customer requirements. The development program helps you gradually build your food safety and quality management and leads you to IFS Food Certification.

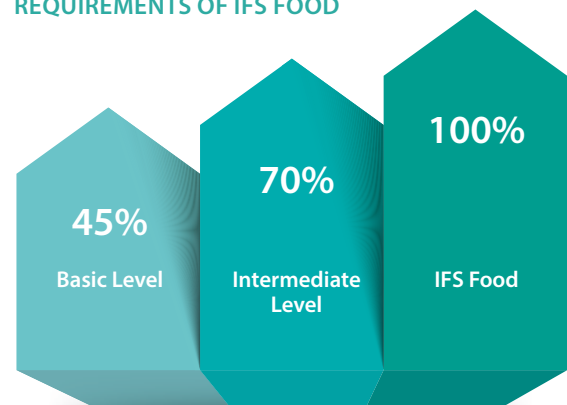

It follows a risk-based, product and process approach that promotes continuous improvement. This approach creates a focus on the areas of importance to the unique processes of each company. It allows you to determine implementation methods that are best suited to the unique conditions in your company.

With IFS Global Markets Food, you lay the foundation for further growth and scalability. It increases the trust your customers have in your company.

FEATURES OF THE IFS GLOBAL MARKETS FOOD PROGRAM

The program is built in steps to support implementing, maintaining, and progressing the food safety and quality processes of your company. The basic level of the program comprises 45% of the IFS Food Standard requirements, and the Intermediate level 70%. The expected duration of each level is one year. Within three years, your company should reach IFS Food Certification (100%). The program allows flexibility in the timeframe and goals if agreed upon with your business partners.
